INVESTIGATORS:	Matt Winters (Professor) Department of Political Science University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign +1 917-929-5965 Michael Huang (PhD Student) Department of Political Science University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign +1 717-961-7730 Crispin Beyogle (PhD Student) Department of Political Science University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign +1 352-214-5109
PURPOSE:	The purpose of the survey is to understand how colonial legacies affect public opinion on foreign aid. Our central question is: How do citizens in former colonies evaluate aid from their former colonizers compared to aid from non-colonial donors? The survey takes no more than 10 minutes to complete. In this survey, you will first answer a few questions about yourself, including gender, age, employment, as well as questions about your opinion on certain issues. Then, you will be randomly assigned into one of three different groups in which you read a short passage. Last, you will answer a few questions about your opinions and thoughts.
RISKS:	The content of the survey mirrors ordinary media exposure that the public may encounter in everyday life. Risks associated with participating in this survey include the normal risks of everyday exposure to news.
BENEFITS:	The benefit of the survey is a better understand how news influences public opinion. There may be no direct benefits.
INCENTIVES:	Upon completing the survey, you will receive compensation from Besample. Please contact Besample if you have questions about the amount or form of the compensation.

CONFIDENTIALITY: The survey will not collect any identifiable information, so your participation will be completely anonymous. Data will be stored using University-approved secure cloud-based storage service Box and protected by strong passwords. This study will collect limited technical information about the device you use for data quality control purposes, including preventing duplicate survey submissions.

RIGHT TO WITHDRAW: Your participation in this research is entirely voluntary. Your decision whether or not to participate, or to withdraw after beginning participation, will not affect your current or future dealings with Besample. If you decide to participate, you are free to withdraw your consent and discontinue participation at any time. The researchers also have the right to stop your participation in this study without your consent if they believe it is in your best interests.

SUMMARY OF RESULTS: A summary of the results of this research will be supplied to you, at no cost, upon request. Please contact Michael Huang at shuyanh2@illinois.edu for the results. The results are expected to be ready within a year from your participation.

VOLUNTARY CONSENT: I have read the above statements and understand what is being asked of me. Some of the information with which I will be provided may be ambiguous or inaccurate. The investigator will, however, inform me of any inaccuracies following my participation in this study. I also understand that my participation is voluntary and that I am free to withdraw my consent at any time, for any reason, without penalty. If the study design or use of the information is changed I will be informed and my consent reobtained. On these terms, I certify that I am willing to participate in this research project.
